

Hacksaw

Product Group: 393

Product number: 546648

General description

Highly efficient means of cutting away debris when speed is required to recover people.

The blade can be mounted with the teeth facing toward or away from the handle, resulting in cutting action on either the push or pull stroke. On the push stroke, the arch will flex slightly, decreasing the tension on the blade.

Features

- Adjustable tension
- quick change of blades

Benefits

- The adjustable screw allows you to tension the blade as required
- Quick changing of blades allows you to cut differing materials
